

REAL ESTATE PRACTICE GROUP

Taking a proprietary interest in your various properties.

For owners and developers, life is a series of risks.
Expect us to make that life easier.

Suddenly, you've got a problem. Unknowingly, you've built on an environmentally compromised site. The liability is all yours, which means your project – and lending capabilities – are now severely threatened.

At The Hilb Group, we're well aware of exposures like this one, and well-versed in developing plans to manage these risks. Routinely managing multi-million dollar real estate schedules, the professionals at Hilb insure apartment and condo complexes, commercial buildings, malls and manufacturing sites. We realize that owners and developers face a unique set of risks, every hour of every day. We've built our Real Estate Practice Group to meet every one.

Does your coverage dovetail with the bylaws?

Strange things can happen at the intersection of common-sense coverage and condo association bylaws, such as discerning who exactly is liable, and for what. In such instances, you can count on The Hilb Group to cut through the complexities – and ensure that you're covered.
